Industrial Market Trends 1Q 2017

Rents Rise 10.7% Year Over Year Hitting A New High

Asking Rent and Vacancy

The San Fernando Valley industrial market continued to impress in the first quarter of 2017. The average asking rent hit $0.83/SF - the highest level on record. The average rental rate is up 3.8% from the prior quarter and 10.7% over last year. The vacancy rate fell 30 basis points from last year to 1.6%, which is one of the lowest rates on record. The decline in the vacancy rate is due to supply constrained market conditions and persistent demand for industrial space in San Fernando Valley. Due to the extreme lack of supply, the leasing volume in the first quarter fell by 48% compared to last year. On the other hand, sales activity increased 17.0% from a year ago.

Lease and Sale Volume

With practically no land available for development in the San Fernando Valley, it is extremely difficult for new supply to alleviate pent up demand. Limited new construction provides no long-term relief. The 360,000 SF Sun Valley Business Center currently under construction is 76% leased to OnTrac, with only 96,000 square feet remaining available.

Users looking for space are branching out into the nearby Santa Clarita Valley, which has more options for tenants looking to expand. The availability of industrial space in the Santa Clarita Valleys is higher – with more than twice the industrial space under construction. Modern furniture designer and manufacturer Armen Living moved its corporate headquarters in the first quarter from the eastern San Fernando Valley to Valencia, where the company was able to expand from 40,000 square feet to 58,000 square feet.
